

Yael Vishnizki-Levi is an artist based in Warsaw, Poland. She holds a BFA (cum laude) from Bezalel Academy in Jerusalem, Israel and is completing her MA at the University of Warsaw, Poland. Yael exhibits her work internationally including at the Wrocław Contemporary Museum, Poland and Arad Contemporary Art Center, Israel. She participated in residency programs including at the Styrian A-i-R in Graz, POLIN Museum, Poland, the Nida Art Colony, Lithuania and the Arad Art & Architecture, Israel.

In her work, Yael deals with ideas of representation and recreation of historical and political issues. She is interested in concepts of migration throughout the 20th century and in social and artistic movements from Central-Eastern Europe. Yael relates to the creative experience as a means of stimulation. She uses archival images which allow her to channel personal and collective stories through documents and letters among other found objects.

By incorporating different materials into her installations, Yael attempts to create an interactive, multidisciplinary art form and build bridges and communication within the society.
